Africa

Jen-min Jih-pao Commentator:

The African people are the close friends of the Chinese people. Every victory of theirs means a support to us. We are following with attention their struggle against imperialism, colonialism and racial discrimination, regarding the struggle as our own. We are deeply convinced that the struggle of various countries in Africa for safeguarding national independence, defending state sovereighty and developing national economy will undoubtedly be crowned with new successes. So long as they strengthen unity, persevere in protracted armed struggles and rely on their own strength, the African people, who remain under the domination of colonialism and racialism, will surely win final victory in their national liberation struggles!

("The Mind of the Hundreds of Millions of African People Is Expressed," NCNA-English, Peking, September 12, 1972--SCMP 72-38 [5221]/200-201)

Chi P'eng-fei (姬鵬飞), Foreign Minister:

Together with the small and medium-sized countries of other regions of the world, the African countries are playing an increasingly important role in international affairs....Without the consent of the African people, no other people will ever succeed in trying to impose their will upon the daily awakening African people, and their attempt will surely fall through. We are convinced that the African countries and peoples, who are becoming daily more closely united, will certainly be able by their own hands to seize still greater victories for the national liberation struggle of Africa, and the great African people will surely obtain full mastery of their own destiny.

("Foreign Minister Chi P'eng-fei Gives Banquet in Honor of Togolese Goodwill Mission," NCNA-English, Peking, September 16, 1972--SCMP 72-39 [5225]/155-158)

Chou En-lai (周恩来), Premier:

The epoch when the African people decide their own destiny has arrived. We are convinced that the African people, united as one and persevering in struggle, will surely be able, with the sympathy and support of the people of the world, to surmount all difficulties and dangers on their road of advance and win complete victory for their national liberation struggles.

...We are all developing countries and we all belong to the Third World. That is why the friendly relations between China and African countries are continuously developing and daily growing on the basis of the five principles of peaceful coexistence. The Chinese government and people are determined, as always, to continue their efforts to establish and develop friendly relations with all independent African states and support the national liberation struggles of all those African peoples who are still under colonialist rule. The African people can rest assured that the Chinese people will for ever remain their reliable friends in their just struggles.

("Premier Chou En-lai's Speech at Banquet in Honor of Zambian Goodwill Mission," NCNA-English, Peking, September 17, 1972--SCMP-72-39 [5225]/166-168)

Chi P'eng-fei:

As an important force of the Third World, the African countries are playing an increasingly important role in international affairs. The Chinese government and people firmly stand together with the African peoples and will fight shoulder to shoulder with them against imperialism, colonialism, neo-colonialism and racial discrimination till final victory.

("Malian Ambassador to China and Wife Give National Day Reception," NCNA-English, Peking, September 22, 1972--SCMP 72-40 [5228]/80-82)

Ch'iao Kuan-hua (乔冠华), Chairman of PRC Delegation to 27th Session of UN General Assembly:

In Africa, particularly in Southern Africa, the mass movements against the White colonialist rule, racial discrimination and apartheid and for national liberation have made great new progress, marking a further enhancement of the political consciousness of the African people. The people in Southern Africa and other regions, which have not yet achieved independence, are increasingly aware that the only way to overthrow the White colonialist rule and win national liberation is to rely mainly on their own efforts, fully arousing and organizing the masses and waging an unyielding valiant struggle. It is necessary to seek external assistance, but more and more facts have proved that it is impossible to put an end to the colonialist rule by relying on other people. The Chinese government and people resolutely support the heroic people of Mozambique, Angola, Guinea (Bissau), Azania, Zimbabwe, Namibia and Spanish Sahara. Their struggles are just and so long as they carry on perseveringly, fear neither hardship nor sacrifice and advance wave upon wave, they will surely, with the sympathy and support of the peoples of Africa and the whole world, win final victory.

("Chairman of Chinese Delegation Speaks at UN General Assembly," NCNA-English, United Nations, October 3, 1972--SCMP 72-42 [5237]/92-106)

Arab States and Peoples

Ch'iao Kuan-hua (乔冠华), Chairman of PRC Delegation to 27th Session of UN General Assembly:

However, recent developments show that the heroic Arab people will not allow others to ride on their backs and lord it over them for long. They have taken determined actions to shake off superpower domination. This commands admiration. Do not believe the sensation nonsense deliberately spread by a superpower that no counterattack should be made against Israel's armed aggression for that would spark a world war. That is meant to scare people. It has been borne out repeatedly by the history of the 20 years and more since World War II. We believe that, so long as they strengthen their unity and persevere in struggle, the Arab countries subjected to aggression are fully capable of recovering their sacred territories and the injured Palestinian people regaining their national rights.

The Chinese government has always opposed assassination and hijacking of individuals as a means for waging political struggles and is also opposed to terrorist acts by individuals or a handful of people divorced from the masses, because they are harmful to the development of the cause of national liberation and people's revolution. But we strongly condemn Israel for the recent barbarous aggression and massacres it has committed against Lebanon, Syria and other Arab countries on the pretext of the "Munich incident." The Chinese people will always stand together with the Arab and Palestinian peoples in their just struggle against aggression.

Europe

Ch'iao Kuan-hua (乔冠华), Chairman of PRC Delegation to 27th Session of UN General Assembly:

Twenty-seven years have passed since the end of World War II, and yet many European countries are still under the military control of one superpower or the other, with large number of foreign troops stationed on their territories....In these circumstances, how can one speak of genuine peace and security for the people of the European countries? What calls for attention is the fact that there are now some people who, capitalizing on the European people's eager desire for peace, are trying hard by various tactics to cover up the reality that European peace and security are still under threat, and to create the false impression of a European detente and "all quiet on the western front," so as to attain their ulterior purposes. The fact that a superpower could, when it considered it necessary, launch a surprise attack to occupy an ally with massive troops shows that such a "military alliance" is no guarantee for peace at all. Security is out of the question for any country when it is under virtual occupation.

We hold that, in order truly to ensure peace and security for Europe, it is necessary to oppose firmly the aggression, interference, subversion and control by the superpowers, to disband the military blocs, withdraw the foreign armed forces and bring about peaceful coexistence of the European countries on the basis of respect for independence and sovereignty, mutual non-aggression, non-interference in each other's internal affairs and equality and mutual benefit. Otherwise, the so-called European Security Conference can only be another name for the division of spheres of influence between the two superpowers by making use of military blocs....The Chinese government resolutely support the people of the European countries in all their efforts to oppose the power politics and hegemonism practiced by the superpowers.

Chi P'eng-fei, Foreign Minister:

We sympathize with and support the European peoples in their efforts to defend the independence and sovereignty of their own countries and safeguard the peace and security of europe. We believe that the situation in Europe can be eased only when the independence and sovereignty of all the European countries are truly respected and their position as equals fully recognized. The actions taken by any superpower to push expansionism under the facade of "detente," to legalize the division of spheres of influence and further bring more European countries under its domination will only aggravate the tension in Europe and will definitely not be accepted.

Germany

Joint Communique of PRC and Federal Republic of Germany:

The government of the People's Republic of China and the government of the Federal Republic of Germany decided on October 11, 1972 to establish diplomatic relations and to exchange ambassador within a short time.

("Joint Communique of Government of People's Republic of China and Government of Federal Republic of Germany on Establishment of Diplomatic Relations between Two Countries," NCNA-English, Peking, October 11, 1972--SCMP 72-43 [5241]/108)

Chi P'eng-fei (姬鹏飞), Foreign Minister:

The formal establishment of diplomatic relations between our two countries not only conforms to the common desires and interests of our two peoples, but also will exert positive influence for the relaxation of international tension and the safeguarding of world peace.

The People's Republic of China and the Federal Republic of Germany have different social systems. But this does not hinder our two countries from developing normal state relations on the basis of the five principles of peaceful coexistence. The present visit to China by Mr. Scheel and Mrs. Scheel and the other distinguished guests from the Federal Republic of Germany has provided our two sides with an opportunity to exchange views on the relations between our two countries and on other questions of common concern, and this will be conducive to enhancing the mutual understanding and ties between our two countries.

("Foreign Minister Chi P'eng-fei's Speech at Banquet in Honor of Foreign Minister Walter Scheel," NCNA-English, Peking, October 11, 1972--SCMP 72-43 [5241]/110-111)

Jen-min Jih-pao Editorial:

The establishment of diplomatic relations between China and the Federal Republic of Germany not only accords with the common aspirations and interests of the two peoples but also has a positive significance to the relaxation of international tension and to the safeguarding of world peace.....

We are deeply convinced that with the establishment of diplomatic relations between China and the Federal Republic of Germany, the friendship between the two peoples is bound to deepen and the friendly relations between the two countries will develop continuously.

Ch'iao Kuan-hua (乔冠华), Chairman of PRC Delegation to 27th Session of UN General Assembly:

The three Indochinese countries are close neighbors of China, and the three Indochinese peoples are the Chinese people's brothers. We are duty-bound to support them in their just struggle against foreign aggression, and we will never interfere in their internal affairs. On behalf of the Chinese government, I once again solemnly declare on this rostrum: So long as the war in Indochina goes on in whatever form, the Chinese government and people, not flinching from the greatest national sacrifice, will firmly support the three Indochinese people in fighting to the end.

Japan

Chou En-lai (周恩来), Premier:

It is the general trend of events and popular demand to promote and develop Sino-Japanese friendship and bring about normal diplomatic relations between the two countries. This has become a strong tide not to be stemmed by any force.

...We are convinced that through their joint efforts, China and Japan will surely be able to remove the interferences, end the state of war between the two countries, realize the normalization of China-Japan diplomatic relations and establish friendly good-neighbor relations on the basis of the five principles of peaceful coexistence, so that our two great nations will be friends from generation to generation.

The Chinese people is a great people, the Japanese people is a great people. The normalization of the relations between China and Japan and the development of their friendship not only conform to the fundamental interests of the two peoples, but will greatly help ease tension in Asia and safeguard world peace.

...The Chinese people will never forget the Japanese friends who have sown seeds of China-Japan friendship.

Chou En-lai:

Prime Minister Tanaka's visit to China opens a new page in the history of Sino-Japanese relations....

It is the common desire of the Chinese and Japanese peoples to promote Sino-Japanese friendship and restore diplomatic relations between China and Japan. Now is the time for us to accomplish this historical task....

I am deeply convinced that, through the efforts of our two sides, conducting full consultations and seeking common ground on major points while reserving differences on minor points, the normalization of Sino-Japanese relations can certainly be realized.

The social systems of China and Japan are different. However, this should not be an obstacle to our two countries living together as equals and in friendship. The restoration of diplomatic relations between China and Japan and the establishment of friendly and good-neighborly relations on the basis of the five principles of peaceful coexistence will open up broad prospects for the further development of friendly contacts between our two peoples and the expansion of economic and cultural exchanges between our two countries. Sino-Japanese friendship is not exclusive; it will contribute to the relaxation of tension in Asia and the safeguarding of world peace.

Chou En-lai:

Prime Minister Tanaka's visit to China, short as it is, has yielded fruitful results....

We are going to end the abnormal state of affairs which has existed between the two countries up to now. The termination of the state of war and the normalization of relations between China and Japan--the realization of these long-cherished wishes of the Chinese and Japanese people will open a new chapter in the relations between our two countries and make a positive contribution to the relaxation of tension in Asia and the safeguarding of world peace....

China and Japan are countries with fundamentally different social systems. However, the fruitful talks between our two sides prove that, so long as both sides have confidence, problems between the two countries can be solved through consultations on an equal footing.

I am convinced that so long as both sides faithfully abide by the five principles of peaceful coexistence, peaceful and friendly relations between our two countries can surely develop continuously and the great peoples of our two countries can certainly live in friendship from generation to generation.

Joint Statement of PRC and Japan:

Although the social systems of China and Japan are different, the two countries should and can establish peaceful and friendly relations. The normalization of relations and the development of good-neighborly and friendly relations between the two countries are in the interests of the two peoples, and will also contribute to the relaxation of tension in Asia and the safeguarding of world peace.

(1) The abnormal stage of affairs which has hitherto existed between the People's Republic of China and Japan is declared terminated on the date of publication of this statement.

(2) The government of Japan recognizes the government of the People's Republic of China as the sole legal government of China.

(3) The government of the People's Republic of China reaffirms that Taiwan is an inalienable part of the territory of the People's Republic of China. The government of Japan fully understands and respects this stand of the government of China and adheres to its stand of complying with Article 8 of the Potsdam Proclamation.

(4) The government of the People's Republic of China and the government of Japan have decided upon the establishment of diplomatic relations as from September 29, 1972. The two governments have decided to adopt all necessary measures for the establishment and the performance of functions of embassies in each other's capitals in accordance with international law and practice and exchange ambassadors as speedily as possible.

(5) The government of the People's Republic of China declares that in the interest of the friendship between the peoples of China and Japan, it renounces its demand for war indemnities from Japan.

(6) The government of the People's Republic of China and the government of Japan agree to establish durable relations of peace and friendship between the two countries on the basis of the principles of mutual respect for sovereignty and territorial integrity, mutual non-aggression, non-interference in each other's internal affairs, equality and mutual benefit and peaceful coexistence.

In keeping with the foregoing principles and the principles of the United Nations Charter, the governments of the two countries affirm that in their mutual relations, all disputes shall be settled by peaceful means without resorting to the use or threat of force.

(7) The normalization of relations between China and Japan is not directed against third countries. Neither of the two countries should seek hegemony in the Asia-Pacific region and each country is opposed to efforts by any other country or group of countries to establish such hegemony.

(8) To consolidate and develop the peaceful and friendly relations between the two countries, the government of the People's Republic of China and the government of Japan agree to hold negotiations aimed at the conclusion of a treaty of peace and friendship.

(9) In order to further develop the relations between the two countries and broaden the exchange of visits, the government of the People's Republic of China and the government of Japan agree to hold negotiations aimed at the conclusion of agreements on trade, navigation, aviation, fishery, etc., in accordance with the needs and taking into consideration the existing non-governmental agreements.

Jen-min Jih-pao Editorial:

The three principles for the normalization of Sino-Japanese relations put forward by China are: the government of the People's Republic of China is the sole legal government of China; Taiwan is an inalienable part of the territory of the People's Republic of China; and the "Japan-Taiwan Treaty" is illegal and invalid and should be abrogated....Through the fruitful task, the leaders of China and Japan have finally realized the normalization of relations between the two countries. This is a big event long aspired after by the Chinese and Japanese peoples, an event that gladdens the hearts of the people of Asia and the world....

China and Japan are two countries in the Asia-Pacific region separated by a sea. Peaceful and friendly coexistence between China and Japan is not only in the interest of the people of our two countries but also in the interest of the peoples of the Asia-Pacific region. The normalization of relations between China and Japan is not directed against third countries. The governments of the two countries solemnly declare in the joint statement that neither of the two countries should seek hegemony in the Asia-Pacific region and each country is opposed to efforts by any other country or group of countries to establish such hegemony. Doubtlessly, the establishment and development of good-neighborly and friendly relations between China and Japan will greatly contribute to the relaxation of tension in Asia and the safeguarding of world peace....

Looking forward to the future, we are deeply convinced that Sino-Japanese friendship has broad prospects of development and that the two great peoples of China and Japan can surely surmount all obstacles and remain friendly to each other from generation to generation. We are determined to make concerted efforts with the Japanese people for the continuous development of Sino-Japanese friendly relations.

National Day Editorial by Jen-min Jih-pao, Hung-ch'i and Chieh-fang-chün Pao:

The termination of the state of war and the establishment of diplomatic relations between China and Japan have fulfilled a long-time desire of the Chinese and Japanese people and opened a new page in the relations between the two countries. This will exert a positive influence on the relaxation of tension in Asia and the safeguarding of world peace.

Korea

Mao Tsetung, Tung Pi-wu, Chu Teh and Chou En-lai:

The Chinese people warmly congratulate the Korean people on their tremendous achievements and will, as always, resolutely support the fraternal Korean people in their just struggle against US imperialist aggression and for the independent and peaceful reunification of the fatherland, till complete victory.

The Chinese people highly treasure the great friendship and militant unity cemented with blood of the parties and peoples of China and Korea in their protracted common revolutionary struggle. This friendship and this unity are based on Marxism-Leninism and proletarian internationalism. We sincerely wish that the friendship and unity of the peoples of China and Korea will continuously grow stronger and develop in future.

Jen-min Jih-pao Editorial:

The Korean question must be settled by the Korean people themselves on the principle of national self-determination, without any intervention from foreign forces. The agreement reached at the high level talks between North and South Korea serves as a good beginning for the independent and peaceful reunification of Korea. In the new circumstances, the United Nations has the responsibility to take measures to remove the obstacles to the Korean people's effort for the independent and peaceful reunification of their fatherland. It should announce that the US troops in South Korea have no right to use the UN flag and should terminate the activities of the "United Nations Commission for the Unification and Rehabilitation of Korea," thus leading to the withdrawal of foreign troops from South Korea. The time is ripe for the United Nations now to discuss the Korean question seriously and adopt measures to create conditions for promoting the independent and peaceful reunification of Korea. The Chinese government and people firmly support the series of reasonable propositions put forth by the Korean Workers' Party and government on the settlement of the Korean question. We are deeply convinced that the Korean people will certainly win final victory in the just cause for the independent and peaceful reunification of their fatherland.

...The militant friendship and solidarity between the two parties and two peoples of China and Korea are based on the principles of Marxism-Leninism and proletarian internationalism, have stood tests and are unbreakable.

Huang Hua (黄华), Deputy Head of PRC Delegation to UN:

The contacts between North and South Korea and the progress made in settling the question of reunifying their fatherland have won the great attention and warm sympathy of the peoples of the world. This shows that the 40 million Korean people's demand for the reunification of their fatherland has become an irresistible historical trend. The United Nations Organization is duty-bound to take note of this development of the Korean situation and do its utmost to encourage and accelerate such a development, and not to continue to obstruct and undermine such a development....

The key to the peaceful solution of the Korean question is to let the Korean people settle their own problems by themselves free from foreign interference. The Chinese government and people have consistently held that the affairs of a country should be handled by its own people and that there is no justification for any foreign interference. The Korean people are the masters of Korea. The question of the reunification of Korea must be settled by the Korean people themselves without interference from outside forces....

Under the present new situation, the United Nations is duty-bound to take actions to eliminate the obstacles to the Korean people's independent and peaceful reunification of their fatherland. It should declare that the foreign troops in South Korea have no right to use the UN flag and that the activities of the "United Nations Commission for the Unification and Rehabilitation of Korea" should be suspended, thus leading to the withdrawal of foreign troops from South Korea. Now is the time for the United Nations to earnestly discuss the Korean question and take measures to create conditions to accelerate the independent and peaceful reunification of Korea.

Li Yün-ch'üan (李云川), PRC Ambassador to DPRK:

The Chinese government and Chinese people resolutely support the just stand and a series of reasonable propositions of the Korean government on the solution of the Korea question and firmly believe that the Korean people will surely win final victory in their cause of independent, peaceful reunification of the country.

Li Teh-sheng (李德生), Director of PLA General Political Department:

The Chinese government and people all along support the Korean government and people's correct stand on independent and peaceful re-unification of the fatherland....

We are convinced that this just cause of the Korean people will certainly remove every obstruction and clear away all obstacles and win complete victory.

Laos

Chou En-lai (周恩来), Premier:

The peoples of China and Laos are comrades-in-arms and brothers closely related as the lips and the teeth. It is the bounden internationalist duty of the Chinese people to support and assist the people of Laos in their war against US aggression and for national salvation. Following their great leader Chairman Mao's teachings, the Chinese people will for ever stand together with the fraternal peoples of Laos and the other Indochinese countries and give all-out support and assistance to your struggle until complete victory is won.

("Premier Chou En-lai Greets Lao Independence Day," NCNA-English, Peking, October 11, 1972--SCMP 72-43 [5241]/91-92)

Jen-min Jih-pao Editorial:

The Lao problem was created entirely by the US imperialist aggression and interference in Laos. Therefore, an end must be put to the aggression and interference in Laos by US imperialism and its flunkeys, and the Lao people must be left to solve their problem by themselves.

...The Chinese people are resolved to provide powerful backing for the Lao people and resolutely support the peoples of Laos and other Indochinese countries in their war against US aggression and for national salvation till complete victory. We are deeply convinced that final victory certainly belongs to the heroic Lao people and the other Indochinese peoples.

Maldives

Joint Communique of PRC and Maldives:

The government of the People's Republic of China and the government of the Republic of Maldives, in conformity with the interests of the two countries and in accordance with the principles of mutual respect for sovereignty, territorial integrity, equality and mutual benefit, have agreed to the establishment of diplomatic relations effective from October 14, 1972 between the two countries and exchange diplomatic representatives at ambassadorial level.

The government of the Republic of Maldives recognizes that the government of the People's Republic of China is the sole legal government of China and that Taiwan is an inalienable part of the territory of the People's Republic of China.

The government of the People's Republic of China respects the policy of neutrality pursued by the government of the Republic of Maldives.

The two governments agree to develop friendly relations and cooperation between the two countries based on the principles of mutual respect for sovereignty, mutual non-aggression, non-interference in each other's internal affairs and mutual benefit.

Syria

Wang Shu-sheng (王树声), Vice Minister of National Defense:

We are confident that as long as the Arab people persist in unity and struggle, they are sure to win final victory by relying on their own efforts in the revolutionary struggle against imperialism and Israeli Zionism. The Chinese people and the Chinese People's Liberation Army will, as always, firmly support the just struggle of the people of Syria, Palestine and various Arab countries....

The current visit to China of the Syrian People's Army Delegation led by Commander Mohamad Ibrrahim Al-Ali will certainly make positive contributions to the friendship and cooperation between our two countries and two armies.

("Syrian People's Army Delegation Feted in Peking," NCNA-English, Peking, October 16, 1972--SCMP 72-44 [5244]/33-34)

Wang Shu-sheng:

We highly cherish the profound friendship between the people of China and Syria, which has been built up and developed in the struggle against imperialism and colonialism. Our Syrian friends may rest assured that you will always have the firm support of the Chinese people in your struggle to oppose imperialism and colonialism and safeguard national independence and state sovereignty.

Togo

China-Togo Joint Communique:

The governments of the People's Republic of China and the government of the Republic of Togo, in conformity with the interests and desires of the two countries, have decided by agreement to establish diplomatic relations at the ambassadorial level and to exchange ambassadors.

The government of the People's Republic of China supports the government of the Republic of Togo in its struggle against imperialism and colonialism and in defense of national independence and state sovereignty.

The government of the Republic of Togo recognizes the government of the People's Republic of China as the sole legal government of China.

The two governments agree to develop the diplomatic relations, friendship and cooperation between the two countries on the basis of the five principles of peaceful coexistence.

("Joint Communique on Establishment of Diplomatic Relations between People's Republic of China and Republic of Togo," NCNA-English, Peking, September 26, 1972--SCMP 72-40 [5231]/215)

Jen-min Jih-pao Editorial:

The establishment of diplomatic relations between China and Togo will open broad prospects for the development of the friendly ties between the two countries. We are deeply convinced that through the joint efforts of the two countries, the friendship between China and Togo is sure to develop steadily on the basis of the five principles of mutual respect for territorial intergrity and sovereignty, mutual non-aggression, non-interference in each other's internal affairs, equality and mutual benefit, and peaceful coexistence.

United Kingdom

Chi P'eng-fei (姬鵬飞), Foreign Minister:

China and Britain have different social systems, and we do not cover up the fact that there remain some differences and outstanding questions between our two countries. However, the relations between our two countries should and can be developed on the basis of the five principles of peaceful coexistence, and the questions between our two countries can be settled step by step through negotiation and consultation....I believe that the present visit by Sir Alec Douglas-Home will help propel the development of good relations between our two countries.

United Nations

Huang Hua (黄华), Deputy Head of PRC Delegation to UN:

The contacts between North and South Korea and the progress made in settling the question of reunifying their fatherland have won the great attention and warm sympathy of the peoples of the world. This shows that the 40 million Korean people's demand for the reunification of their fatherland has become an irresistible historical trend. The United Nations Organization is duty-bound to take note of this development of the Korean situation and do its utmost to encourage and accelerate such a development, and not to continue to obstruct and undermine such a development....

Under the present new situation, the United Nations is duty-bound to take actions to eliminate the obstacles to the Korean people's independent and peaceful reunification of their fatherland. It should declare that the foreign troops in South Korea have no right to use the UN flag and that the activities of the "United Nations Commission for the Unification and Rehabilitation of Korea" should be suspended, thus leading to the withdrawal of foreign troops from South Korea. Now is the time for the United Nations to earnestly discuss the Korean question and take measures to create conditions to accelerate the independent and peaceful reunification of Korea.

Ch'iao Kuan-hua (乔冠华), Chairman of PRC Delegation to 27th Session of UN General Assembly:

The Chinese delegation holds that the United Nations should rectify the present unreasonable and illegal state of affairs and restore to the Royal Government of National Union of Cambodia its lawful rights....

China stands firm on principles. China considers that whether or not reasonable UN resolutions supported by the overwhelming majority of its members are implemented is a matter of principle affecting what direction the UN is heading for, and on matters of principle China will never retreat....

Here I wish to deal with the Chinese government's views on the review of the UN Charter. As is known to all, the United Nations Charter was drawn up near the end of World War II and it was a product of the historical conditions prevailing at the time. However, history is making advances and things are developing. In quite some respects the Charter formulated 27 years ago obviously cannot meet the tremendous change in international situation and in the United Nations. There were 51 original members at the founding of the United Nations. Since then more than 80 countries have joined the United Nations, most of which are newly independent countries. It is understandable that there is a demand for the UN Charter to fully reflect the present state of affairs of the world. We maintain that on the basis of upholding the purposes and principles of the UN Charter, careful consideration should be given to the views of various countries for necessary revisions of the Charter so as to effect truly the principle that all member states, big or small, are equal. Of course, we likewise consider that the revision of the Charter is a serious and important question, and we are ready to join you all in serious explorations.

The world is at the crossroads, and so is the United Nations. If the United Nations is to regain its prestige and play its due role, it must conform to the trend of the world, truly express the just demands of large numbers of its members and the people of the world, act strictly in accordance with the purposes and principles of the UN Charter and free itself from the manipulation and control by the big powers. It must be trustworthy in word and resolute in deed. Otherwise it would be very difficult for the United Nations to avoid eventually taking the old path of the League of Nations. The Chinese delegation is ready to work together with the delegations of all countries which love peace and uphold justice to make the United Nations truly capable of playing a role in safeguarding international peace and promoting the cause of the progress of mankind.

Chang Chien-hua (张建华), PRC Representative to 12th Session of UNCTAD:

The multilateral trade negotiations in 1973 should not in any way impair the interests of the developing countries. The developing countries' demand for their full and effective participation in the forthcoming negotiations is their legitimate right, which they are entitled to enjoy. We hereby offer our support.

China is a developing country and belongs to the Third World. Although it is not prepared to participate in the proposed negotiations at present, it will, as always, firmly stand on the side of the Third World and resolutely support the just stand and reasonable propositions of the developing countries to safeguard state sovereignty and develop national economies. We oppose a very few countries who manipulate and monopolize international affairs and trade matters to the detriment of the interests of the developing countries. We wish, together with the developing countries as well as other countries of the world, to work for the establishment of new-type international economic and trade relations based on equality and mutual benefit.....

It is entirely reasonable for the developing countries to oppose the manipulation of international monetary affairs by a few countries and demand their right to fully participate in the reform of the international monetary system. We have all along supported this just and reasonable demand....

The reform of the international monetary system should be conducted according to the following principles:

(1) All countries of the world, big or small, should be equal. The affairs concerning all countries of the world should be handled by all of them through mutual consultation and should admit of no monopoly by a few countries. IMF can neither represent all countries nor can give effect to the principle of equality among all countries, big or small. For a long period of time the voting power in IMF has been determined by the quota of its respective fund members. The making of an important decision requires a majority of 85 percent of the votes. It follows that nothing can be done if those fund members who have a large share in the quota say "no." Besides, it must be pointed out solemnly that this organization has hitherto failed to expel the Chiang Kai-shek clique from it in pursuance of the resolution adopted by the 26th General Assembly on the restoration of all legitimate rights to the People's Republic of China, thus grossly trampling upon the resolution adopted by the United Nations.

(2) We hold that a world monetary conference should be held with a view to enabling all countries, big or small, to participate in the discussions on an equal basis, jointly work out practical solutions and make decisions. May be it is a better modality. We are opposed to the acts of a few countries who make arbitrary decisions in complete disregard of the interests of the developing countries. The reform of the international monetary system should be carried out in such a way as to insure that the developing countries can fully participate and their interests are fully taken into consideration and that it should be beneficial for the development of international trade.

(3) We maintain that before the reform of the monetary system has been carried out, the developing countries' demand for the establishment of a "link" between "the special drawing right" and "additional development finance" conforms to their needs. The just demand of the developing countries should be respected.

(4) The monetary crisis has inflicted great losses on the developing countries. The resolution entitled "Compensation for Losses Occasioned by the Realignment of Major Currencies" adopted at the 3rd session of UNCTAD should be implemented.

Ch'en Ch'u (陈楚), PRC Representative to UN:

As from October 1, 1949, the day of the founding of the People's Republic of China, the Chiang Kai-shek clique has no right at all to represent China. It has usurped the name of "China" to become a party to a treaty, an agreement and a convention on the peaceful uses of outer space....In this connection, the Chiang Kai-shek clique's signatures on the above treaty, agreement and convention are illegal and null and void. The Chinese government will examine treaties, agreements and conventions of this kind before making a decision in the light of the circumstances as to whether or not they should be acceded to.

The People's Republic of China did not participate in the committee on the peaceful uses of outer space, and it still has to acquaint itself with and study the information and issues relevant to the peaceful uses of outer space. The Chinese government reserves its right to make comments and take action on related matters in the future.

Basing itself on the above stand, the Chinese delegation has decided not to participate in the voting at this session of the General Assembly on the draft resolutions and amendments concerning the questions of outer space.

("Chinese Representative to UN Declares Chiang Kai-shek Clique's Signature on Treaty on Peaceful Uses of Outer Space Null and Void," NCNA-English, United Nations, October 20, 1972--SCMP 72-44 [5247]/177-178)

Huang Hua (黄华), Vice Chairman of PRC Delegation to UN General Assembly:

The form of waging struggles is bound to be varied, but in the final analysis the counterrevolutionary violence of the colonialists can be frustrated only by the use of revolutionary violence. We have always opposed assassination and hijacking of individuals as a means for waging political struggles and are also opposed to the adventurist acts of terrorism by individuals or a handful of people divorced from the masses. But we definitely cannot agree to the confusion of revolutionary violence with "terrorism"....

We maintain that the United Nations is duty-bound to support the people of various countries in their struggle against colonialism and neo-colonialism. It is utterly imperissible for the superpowers to suppress or demoralize the national liberation movement through the instrumentality of the United Nations....

In our opinion, it is not impermissible for the oppressed nations and peoples to have dialogue with the colonialists as a means of opposing colonialism on the condition that it does not impair the fundamental interests of the people....

China firmly supports the people of various countries in their just struggle against colonialism and neo-colonialism.

Huang Chen (黄镇), Head of PRC Delegation to UNESCO:

Here we also wish to point out with all seriousness that elements of the Chiang Kai-shek clique are still carrying on illegal activities under the usurped name of China in some international non-governmental organizations which have established relations with UNESCO. This absolutely cannot be permitted. We hope that those organizations will follow the spirit of the relevant resolutions adopted by the United Nations General Assembly and UNESCO and take necessary measures to expel the elements of the Chiang Kai-shek clique and restore to the People's Republic of China her legitimate rights.

USSR

...Soviet revisionism has exerted itself to play up the so-called European security question only to pinpoint Europe as the main area of its contention with US imperialism.

In the course of this contention, the Soviet revisionist renegade clique has further revealed its true colors of social-imperialism. With a growing appetite, it is reaching out its hands everywhere. It is even more deceitful than old-line imperialist countries, and therefore more dangerous.... While obviously pushing neo-colonialism in a big way in Asia, Africa and Latin America, it advertises "support to the national liberation movement." While obviously stepping up its arms expansion and war preparations, it raises a hue and cry about "disarmament"....But sham is sham. It may deceive some people for some time, but not forever.

Ch'iao Kuan-hua (乔冠华), Chairman of PRC Delegation to 27th Session of UN General Assembly:

...But now the Soviet government asserts that in a nuclear age there is no other way than the peaceful coexistence among states, which presupposes, above all, the renunciation of the use of force in international relations, that is, the non-use of both conventional and nuclear weapons. It has even spread the alarmist theory that the destructive power of even conventional warfare has by now increased so greatly that the large-scale use of conventional weapons can lead to the annihilation of entire nations. But the world will be safe once there is a resolution on the non-use of force in international relations and the permanent prohibition of the use of nuclear weapons. This is a sheer hoax. As a matter of fact, the Soviet government does not believe in its own theory....In the Indo-Pakistan war last year, they gave undisguised support to the Indian government in its armed aggression against Pakistan. What kind of non-use of force is this?...

Permanent prohibition of the use of nuclear weapons--this sounds so nice and looks so much like China's proposition, but in fact it is completely different....The proposal of the Soviet government, no matter how much it is couched in diplomatic language, has the real intent of making all oppressed nations and peoples tamely submit to the nuclear threat of the one or two superpowers....

Yet the Soviet government dares neither to undertake not to be the first to use nuclear weapons nor to touch on the question of complete prohibition and thorough destruction of nuclear weapons but advocates the cessation of all nuclear tests....Actually this means that the Soviet Union could make any kind of tests when it had the need, and that when it no longer has the need the others are not permitted to make any test. This is another trap blatantly designed to maintain its nuclear monopoly, following the partial nuclear test ban treaty and the treaty on non-proliferation of nuclear weapons....China absolutely will not fall into this trap.... China is ready at any time to stop all her nuclear tests, but only on the day the nuclear weapons of the nuclear superpowers and all nuclear countries are completely prohibited and thoroughly destroyed, and not before.

Mao Tsetung, Tung Pi-wu, Chu Teh and Chou En-lai:

At present, the Vietnamese people's war against US aggression and for national salvation is developing triumphantly and the whole situation in Indochina is excellent. The South Vietnamese armed forces and people have launched fierce offensives in various battlefields, dealt heavy blows to the US imperialist scheme of "Vietnamizing" the war and scored splendid victories. US imperialism has attempted to force the Vietnamese people to cease fighting by stepping up its air and naval raids and imposing a blockade through the laying of mines, but this is sheer day-dreaming. The bombs of US imperialism have not shaken and will never be able to shake the iron will of the Vietnamese people....We are deeply convinced that the Vietnamese people, tempered in protracted revolutionary wars and fighting in unity with the peoples of Laos and Cambodia, will certainly defeat US imperialist aggression and win complete victory in their war against US aggression and for national salvation.

The Chinese and Vietnamese peoples are close comrades-in-arms and brothers sharing weal and woe and going through thick and thin together. To support and assist the Vietnamese people's war against US aggression and for national salvation is a bounden internationalist duty of the Chinese people. No matter what hardships and dangers the Vietnamese people may still face in the war against US aggression and for national salvation, the Chinese people will remain on your side and give allout support and assistance to your just struggle.

Yeh Chien-ying (叶剑英), Vice Chairman of Military Commission:

US imperialism invariably misjudges the situation, places a blind faith in its so-called "strength," underestimates the strength of a people's war and is unwilling to give up its aggressive ambitions. Although it has withdrawn large numbers of ground forces from South Vietnam, it has at the same time dispatched there larger air and naval forces than ever. Although it has abandoned some US military bases in South Vietnam, it has established bigger bases for aggression in Thailand. In appearance it is quitting ground battles, in fact the barbarous acts of aggression of the US air and naval forces are intensifying and escalating the war. US aircraft have not only imposed a blockade by mining the ports of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam, but wantonly bombed inhabitation centers and industrial and agricultural enterprises in Northern Vietnam, and even damaged dykes and irrigation systems in an attempt to cause floods in the high water season and menace the Vietnamese people. This series of facts have exploded the US government's lie about a desire for a quick end to the Vietnam war. The Chinese government and people strongly condemn US imperialism for its act of aggression in escalating the war. The US government must immediately stop attacking the dykes and irrigation systems of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam; it must immediately stop all its acts of aggression against the Vietnamese people.

...The heroic Vietnamese people have been bravely fighting a sanguinary war for more than ten years against the US aggressors for the realization of their sacred national rights, and they will not stop short of their objective. By dragging out the war, the US aggressors will only land themselves in a more passive position and meet with more disastrous defeats.

...The Chinese people's great leader Chairman Mao has pointed out: "The 700 million Chinese people provide a powerful backing for the Vietnamese people; the vast expanse of China's territory is their reliable rear area." We will forever follow Chairman Mao's teachings, regard the Vietnamese and other Indochinese peoples' struggle as our own struggle, and, by practical deeds of grasping revolution, promoting production and other work and preparedness against war, do our best to support and help you in every way in fighting the aggressors. We resolutely support the seven-point peace proposal and the elaboration of its two points of the Provisional Revolutionary Government of the Republic of South Vietnam and the Vietnamese people's efforts for a peaceful settlement of the Vietnam question. So long as the United States does not stop its aggression and the basic national rights of the Vietnamese and the other Indochinese peoples are not realized, the Chinese people will continue to support and assist the Vietnamese and the other Indochinese people in their war against US aggression and for national salvation. This stand of our is firm and unshakable.

("Comrade Yeh Chien-ying's Speech at National Day Reception Given by Ngo Thuyen, Ambassador of DRVN," NCNA-English, Peking, September 1, 1972--SCMP 72-37 [5214]/136-139)

Jen-min Jih-pao Editorial:

While paying lip service to putting an end to the war in Vietnam, the US government has insisted on its policy of aggression and pursued the so-called war "Vietnamization" program....Should the US government really want to end the Vietnamese war, it must withdraw all US aggressor troops and US valet troops from South Vietnam, stop all aggressive actions against Vietnam, and conduct serious negotiations with the Vietnamese side for a peaceful solution of the Vietnam issue on the basis of the seven-point proposal put forth by the Provisional Revolutionary Government of the Republic of South Vietnam and the elaboration of its two key points. There is no other way out. It is entirely miscalculation on the part of the US government to attempt to coerce the heroic Vietnamese people with war escalation or any other methods of intimidation.

...The Chinese people are determined to do their utmost to give all-out support to the Vietnamese people and the other Indochinese peoples in their war against US aggression and for national salvation till complete victory is won.

("Victory Certainly Belongs to the Heroic Vietnamese People," NCNA-English, Peking, September 1, 1972--SCMP 72-37 [5214]/139-141)

Chi P'eng-fei (姬鵬飞), Foreign Minister:

On behalf of the Chinese government and people,I declare in all seriousness our resolute support for the solemn stand of the Provisional Revolutionary Government of the Republic of South Vietnam as expressed in the September 11, 1972 statement.

I would like to take this opportunity to reaffirm to Your Excellency Minister that to support the struggle of the people of Vietnam and other countries in Indochina against US aggression and for national salvation is a bounden internationalist obligation of the Chinese people. So long as the US war of aggression continues, the people of our country will do our utmost to support the just struggle of the Vietnamese people and the people of other Indochinese countries until a complete victory is won.

("Chinese Foreign Minister Expresses Firm Support for September 11 Statement of PRG of RSVN," NCNA-English, Peking, September 30, 1972--SCMP 72-41 [5234]/186-187)

Wang Yu-p'ing (王幼平), PRC Ambassador to DRVN:

To support the war of the Vietnamese people against US aggression and for national salvation is the persistent policy of the Chinese Communist Party and the Chinese government. As long as the United States continues the war of aggression, as long as the Vietnamese people do not recover their fundamental national rights, we will resolutely do our utmost to support you till complete victory is won.

Ch'iao Kuan-hua (乔冠华), Chairman of PRC Delegation to 27th Session of UN General Assembly:

Of late, the Provisional Revolutionary Government of the Republic of South Vietnam issued a statement on September 11, demanding that the United States cease its policy of "Vietnamizing" the war and its support to the Saigon puppet regime, and pointing out that a solution to the problem of South Vietnam must proceed from the actual situation in South Vietnam in which there exist two administrations and two armies as well as other political forces and that a provisional government of national concord composed of three equal segments must be formed to take charge of the affairs in the period of transition. This proposal is fair and reasonable. It shows that the Vietnamese side has no intention to impose a communist regime on South Vietnam. Rejection of this proposal precisely bespeaks the attempt to continue to impose the Nguyen Van Thieu puppet regime on the South Vietnamese people. The Chinese government fully supports the just stand of the Vietnamese people and of the three Indochinese people.

Jen-min Jih-pao Commentator:

The Foreign Ministry of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam has issued a statement expressing strong denunciation and demanding that the US government stop at once its bombing, shelling, mining and blockading of North Vietnam, cease pursuing its war "Vietnamization" policy in South Vietnam and negotiate seriously at the Paris Conference. The Chinese government and people firmly support the just stand of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam.

The US government has sent out huge air and naval forces to conduct continuous wanton bombing raids on various parts of North Vietnam including Hanoi and Haiphong in the last few months. By bombing and shelling densely populated areas, peaceful installations and river dykes and dams in North Vietnam, the US government has tried to create serious difficulties for Vietnam and force the Vietnamese people to submit so as to save the US from defeat in its aggression against Vietnam....

Bombing is no solution to the question....Facts have proved that the US bombs can in no way shake the iron will of the Vietnamese people, nor hamper their victorious advance in the war against US aggression and for national salvation. The attempt of the US government to force the Vietnamese people to accept its unreasonable conditions by intensified bombing is absolutely futile. The barbarous crimes of US imperialism can only arouse the Vietnamese people to more powerful resistance and land itself in more disastrous defeat.

("The Vietnamese People Cannot Be Cowed by Bombing," NCNA-English, Peking, October 13, 1972--SCMP 72-43 [5242]/156-157)

PRC Ministry of National Defense:

We resolutely reaffirm that so long as US imperialism refuses to end its aggression against Vietnam and other countries in Indochina, the Chinese people will continue to do their utmost to give all-round support to the war against US aggression and for national salvation waged by the Vietnamese people and other Indochinese peoples till final victory is won.

("Chinese Ministry of National Defense Congratulates North Vietnamese Armed Forces and People on Downing 4,000 US Planes," NCNA-English, Peking, October 19, 1972--SCMP 72-44 [5245]/83)

Statement of Government of People's Republic of China:

On October 26, 1972 the government of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam issued the "statement on the present state of the negotiations relating to the Vietnam people." The Chinese government and people resolutely support the solemn and just position taken in that statement....

The US government should faithfully keep its word and sign as soon as possible with the government of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam the agreement which has already been reached. Should the US government drag out its war of aggression in disregard of the urgent desire of the people of Vietnam, the United States and the whole world to end the war in Vietnam as early as possible, it will surely eat the bitter fruit of its own making.

The stand of the Chinese government and people of supporting the Vietnamese people's just struggle is firm and unshakable. So long as US imperialism does not stop its war of aggression against Vietnam, the Chinese people will certainly perform their international duty and continue to give all-out support and assistance to the Vietnamese people in their war against US aggression and for national salvation till complete victory.

("Statement of the Government of the People's Republic of China, October 30, 1972," NCNA-English, Peking, October 30, 1972--SCMP 72-45 [5252]/202-203)

Jen-min Jih-pao, Commentator:

The US government, which concurrently represents the government of the Republic of Vietnam,has negotiated with the DRVN government which concurrently represents the Provisional Revolutionary Government of the Republic of South Vietnam, for an agreement to end the war and restore peace in Vietnam. It must be held responsible for the acts of the Nguyen Van Thieu government in an attempt to obstruct and wreck the agreement. The US government must keep its words and bear the responsibility for correcting the truculent and unreasonable attitude of the Nguyen Van Thieu government and sign the agreement at the scheduled time, just as the DRVN government has pointed out in its statement.....

The Chinese people resolutely support the just stand of the October 26 statement of the DRVN government and are firmly confident that the just struggle waged by the Vietnamese and other peoples of Indochina will certainly be victorious.

("Jen-min Jih-pao Commentator's Article: Obstruction and Sabotage of the Realization of Peace in Vietnam Is Absolutely Impermissible," NCNA-English, Peking, October 30, 1972--SCMP 72-45 [5252]/204-206)

Jen-min Jih-pao Editorial:

The government of the People's Republic of China is the sole legal government representing the entire Chinese people. Taiwan province is an inalienable part of the territory of the People's Republic of China. The liberation of Taiwan is entirely China's internal affairs. Any conspiracy to create "two Chinas," "one China, one Taiwan" and "one China, two governments" is bound to fail. We are determined to liberate our country's sacred territory of Taiwan province.

National Day Editorial by Jen-min Jih-pao, Hung-ch'i and Chieh-fang-chün Pao:

We insist on peaceful coexistence with countries having different social systems on the basis of the five principles and strive for the relaxation of international tension. This is what we have done toward Asian, African and Latin American countries as well as toward countries in the second intermediate zone. Even if a country previously adopted a policy hostile to China, we would hold talks with it for the improvement of relations between the two countries when it indicates its readiness to change that policy. We uphold our principle and, at the same time, adopt a flexible attitude which is permissible and necessary for carrying out our principle. Our foreign policy has won ever wider sympathy and support in the world....

The development of our relations with countries having different social systems on the basis of the five principles of peaceful coexistence and the increase of our friendly exchanges with other peoples are not only conducive to the easing of international tension but are in the interests of the revolutionary struggles of the people of various countries. That is why the five principles of peaceful coexistence set forth by China have found their way ever deeper into the hearts of the people.

In this excellent international situation we should further implement in an all-round way Chairman Mao's revolutionary line and policies in foreign affairs. We must unite with the other socialist countries and the working class throughout the world, with all oppressed people and oppressed nations and with all peace-loving countries and people who are against power politics, to firmly oppose the policy of aggression and war of imperialism and social-imperialism, especially to expose the Soviet revisionist scheme of sham relaxation but real expansion, and strive for the easing of international tension and the maintenance of world peace. Our doing so conforms to the fundamental interests of the people of China and the world. And only by doing so can international tension be truly eased and world peace safeguarded.

Ch'iao Kuan-hua (乔冠华), Chairman of PRC Delegation to 27th Session of UN General Assembly:

The Chinese delegation holds that the people of all countries must not be deluded by certain temporary and superficial phenomena of detente at the present time and develop a false sense of security. While striving for world peace and the progress of mankind, we must maintain sufficient vigilance and make necessary preparations against the danger of new wars of aggression any imperialism may launch....

We hold that all countries which are sincere in providing aid to others, including multilateral aid through the United Nations, should help the recipient countries and not to exploit them. Their loans should be interest-free or at least, low in interest. They must not press for repayment but should allow its postponement. When providing a loan or other forms of aid, they should strictly respect the sovereignty of the recipient countries, attach no conditions and ask for no privileges. The purpose of providing aid to other countries should be to help the recipient countries stand on their own feet and develop an independent national economy. They must not reduce the recipient countries to dependence and subordination in the name of "economic aid" and "international division of labor," let alone placing them under their control on the pretext of "aid." China, too, received some foreign aid in the past and had direct experiences in this regard. Therefore, today when we provide aid to other countries, we endeavor to act on the above-mentioned principles. Of course, our capabilities in this respect are limited and the aid we can give is not much, but we hold that the above-mentioned principles should be propagated and applied universally....

People condemn war and consider it a barbarous way of settling disputes among mankind. But we are soberly aware that war is inevitable so long as society is divided into classes and the exploitation of man by man still exists. There are two categories of wars, just and unjust. We support just wars and oppose unjust wars. If a socialist still wants to be a socialist, he should not oppose all wars indiscriminately. The non-use of force in international relations can only be conditional and not unconditional. The condition is to realize peaceful coexistence through mutual respect for sovereignty and territorial integrity, mutual non-aggression, non-interference in each other's internal affairs, and equality and mutual benefit. And in order to realize this it is imperative to oppose the policies of aggression and expansion of any imperialism. When imperialism, colonialism and neo-colonialism of various descriptions are still using force to enslave, commit aggression against, control and threaten a majority of the countries of the world, it is betrayal to the people of the world to advocate non-use of force in international relations undiscriminately, without regard to conditions and in an absolute way....

On the question of convening a world disarmament conference, we have explained the position and views of the Chinese government at the 26th Session of the General Assembly. We cannot agree to the Soviet position on the "World Disarmament Conference" as set forth in the Soviet Foreign Minister's Letter of August 14 this year to the UN Secretary-General. The "World Disarmament Conference" as proposed by the Soviet Union has neither the necessary requisites, nor a clear aim. It would in fact be an "empty talk club" which would indulge in far-ranging rambling discourse without solving any practical problem. To hold such a conference would only serve to hoodwink and lull the people of the world. It is better not to hold it....

In order that a world disarmament conference will make a true start and carry on fruitfully instead of becoming a bout of deceptive empty talk, it is imperative to create the necessary conditions for the convening of such a conference, namely, all nuclear countries, particularly the Soviet Union and the United States which possess the greatest amount of nuclear weapons, must first of all undertake the unequivocal obligation that at no time and in no circumstances will they be the first to use nuclear weapons, and that they not only will not use nuclear weapons against each other, but, more importantly, will not use them against the non-nuclear countries, and they must withdraw from abroad all their armed forces, including nuclear missile forces, and dismantle all their military bases, including nuclear bases, on the territories of other countries. Only thus will it be possible to create the necessary conditions for all the countries, irrespective of their size, to discuss and solve on an equal footing the important questions of complete prohibition and thorough destruction of nuclear weapons and the reduction of conventional weapons.
